Let's Face It

Let's face it, the many and varied faces of Adamson represent us, the student body. The silliness of a somewhat frightened freshman, the anxiety of a sophomore, the confidence of a junior, and the proud bearing of a senior, express the emotion that fills the halls of our school.

Faces reflect: happiness, sadness, confidence, disappointment, embarrassment, pride, determination, thoughtfulness, ignorance, wisdom, and a myriad of other feelings.

On these pages we see the smiling face of victory, the sober face of discouragement, the stern face of determination, the laughing face of happiness and the self-conscious face of embarrassment; emotions everyone has experienced.

The face is like a chapter in a life book that tells a story. For this reason, we have recorded the various and memorable events of the year by using your faces.

Through faces we hope to capture for you the unforgettable experiences of the year 1968 at Adamson High School.

Oak Honors Mr. Stevenson

Hard-working, dedicated, tolerant, and amiable are words which describe this year's dedicatee. Always enthusiastic and eager to assist, he has won the admiration of many students. As a baseball and football coach, he teaches athletes how to win in sportsmanship as well as in sports. Because he is well-known, liked, and respected by fellow teachers, students, and athletes, we dedicate the 1968 Oak to Mr. Buddy Stevenson.

Views of Adamson We Often Take for Granted

The beauty of our snow covered campus; the intricacies of our building, resulting from additions through the years; the venerable trophy cases, surrounding our fighting leopard; the bronze plaque representative of our school's history; and the typical scene at the end of the day of a trash can and broom; these are the many views of Adamson we take for granted.

Thomas W. Meek

As Principal of W. H. Adamson High School, Thomas W. Meek has earned the respect and admiration of both the student body and faculty. He is an able leader, inspiring spirit and enthusiasm in school projects. Ever willing to lend a helping hand, Mr. Meek provides needed guidance for success in the high school program.

Assistant Principal

Royce Larsen, assistant principal, keeps discipline with a firm yet understanding hand. Adamsonites not only respect his judgement, but also look to him as a friend.

Student Life . . .

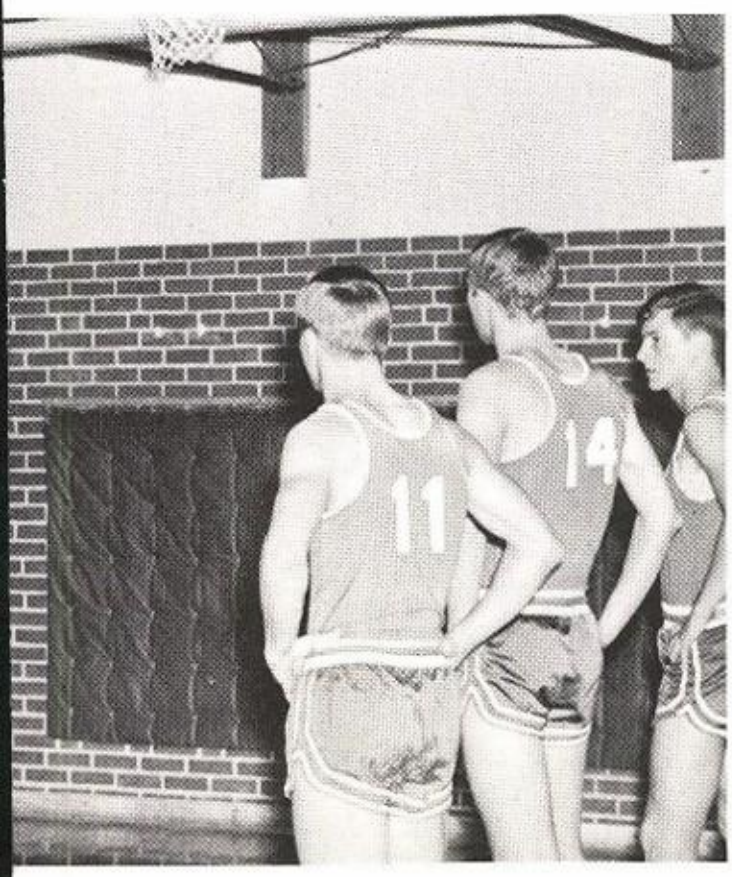
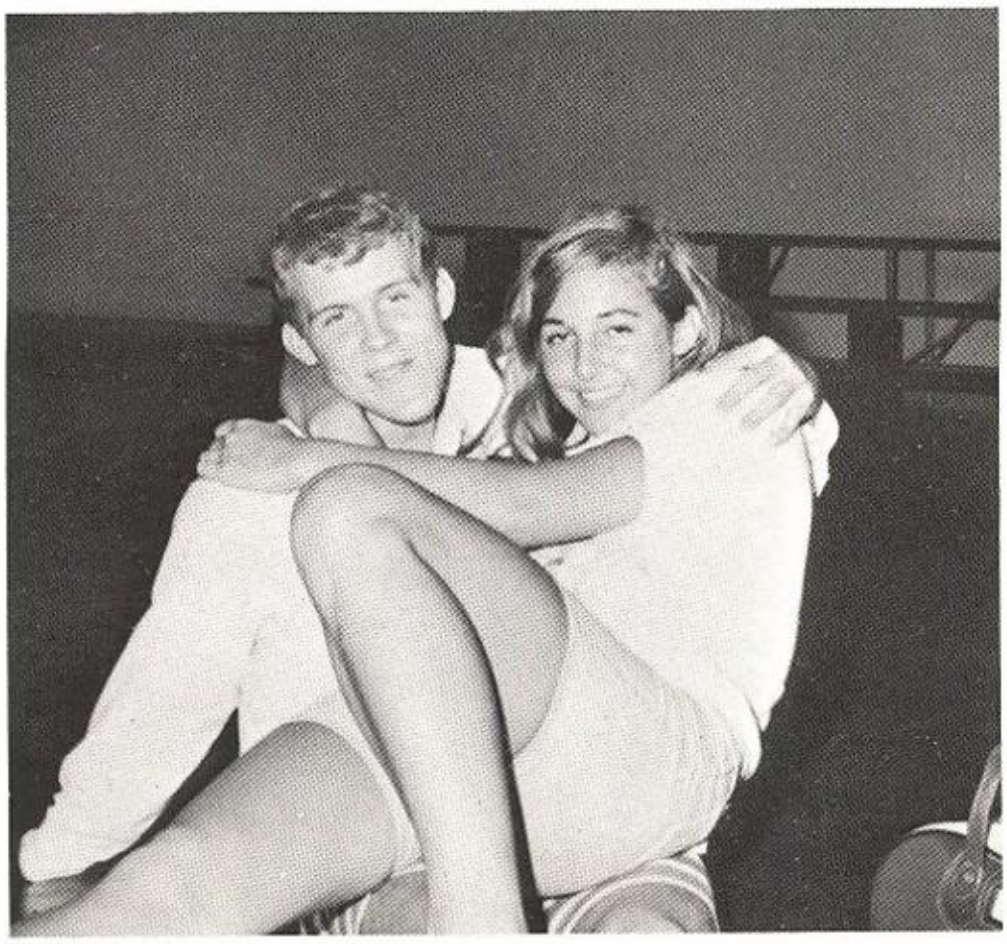
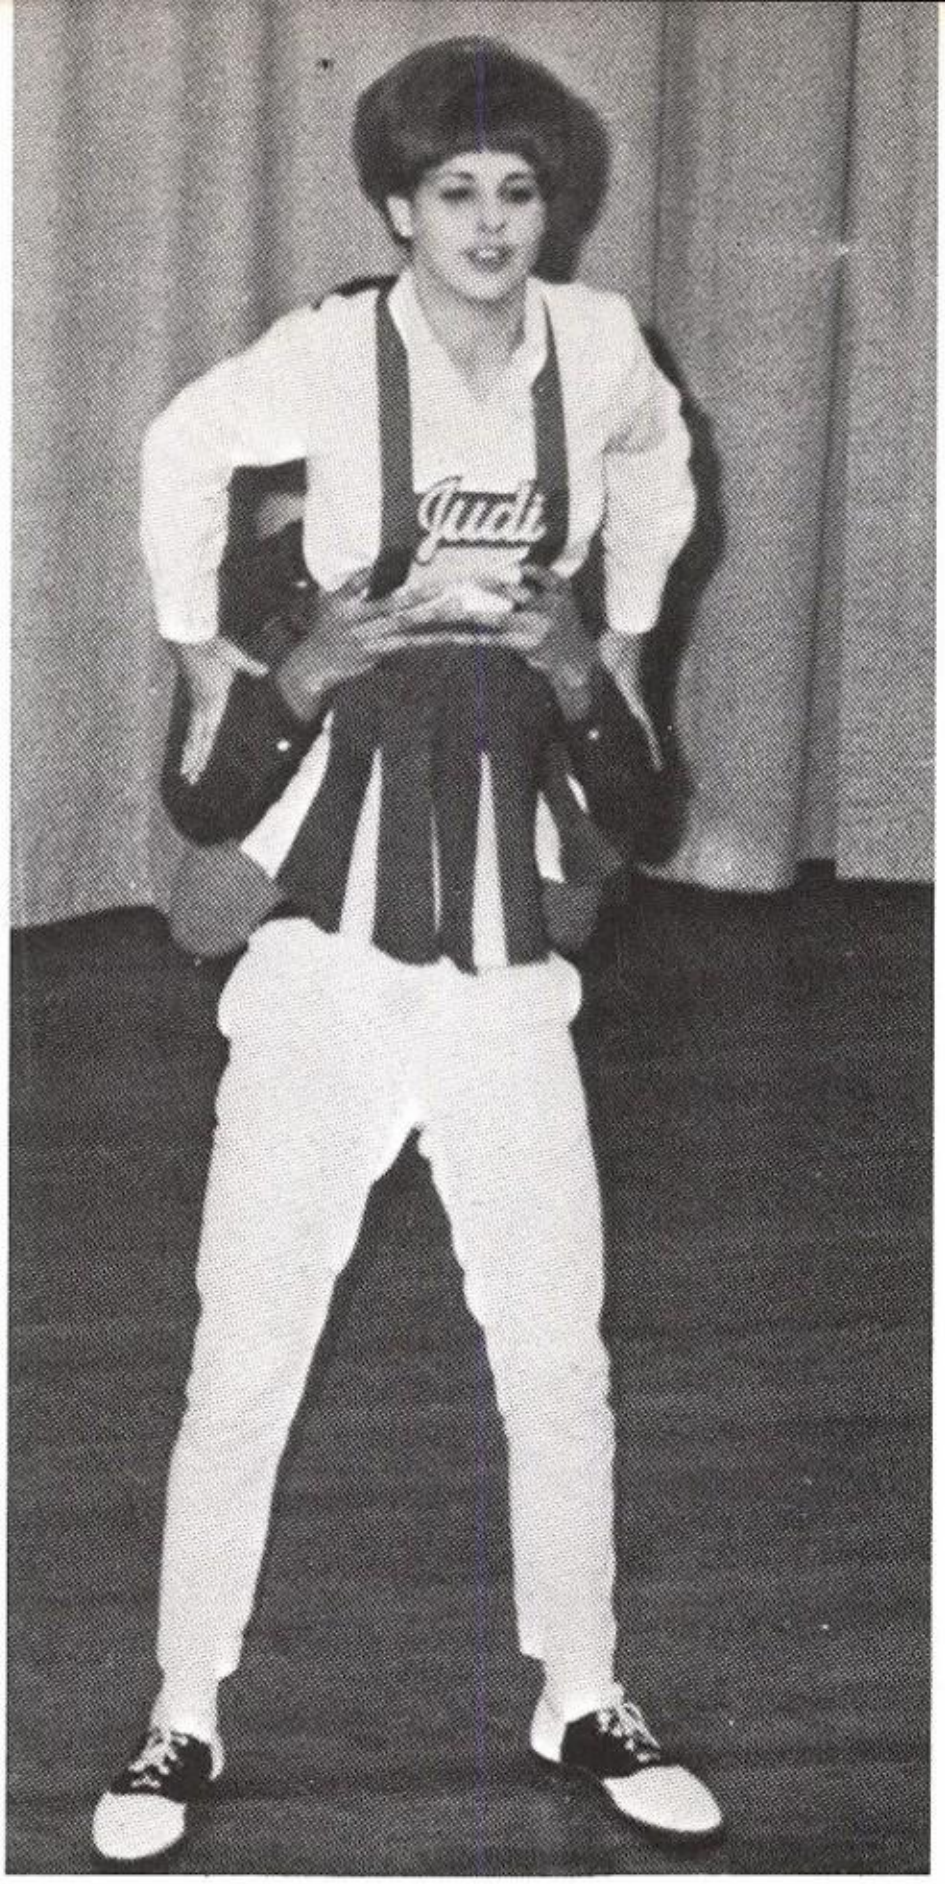
Love
Sandy





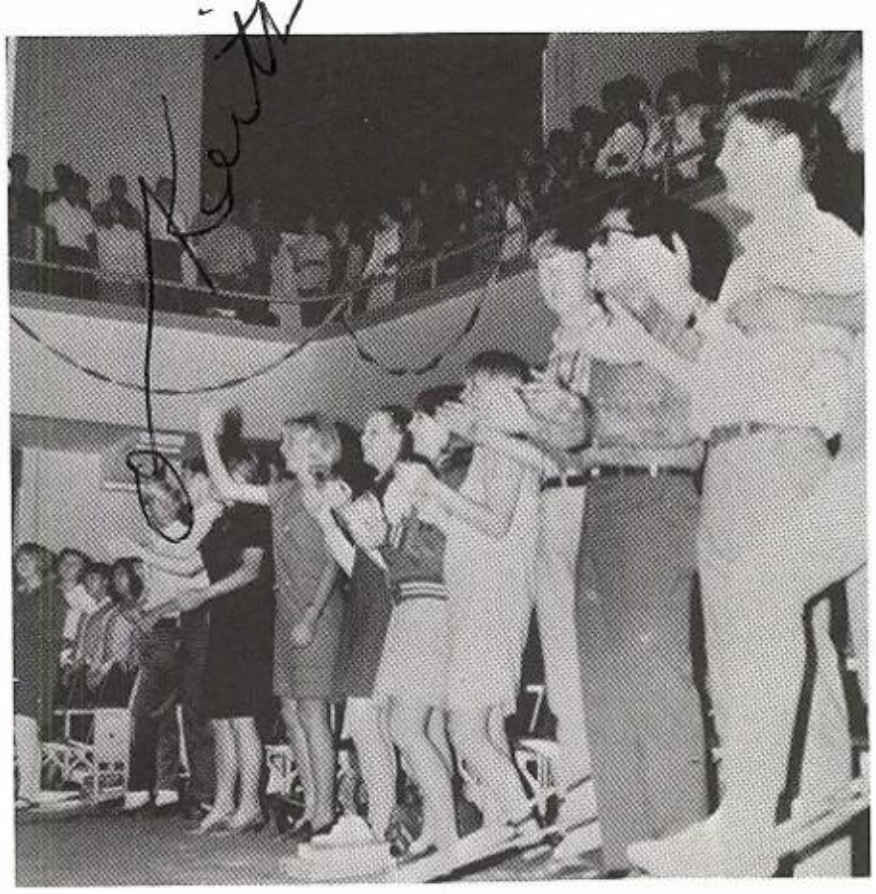
Student Life Is an Expression of . . .

Student Life is an expression of many things, but one of the most vital is that of spirit. Although it involves long strenuous hours of hard work, these are the hours that make school meaningful.

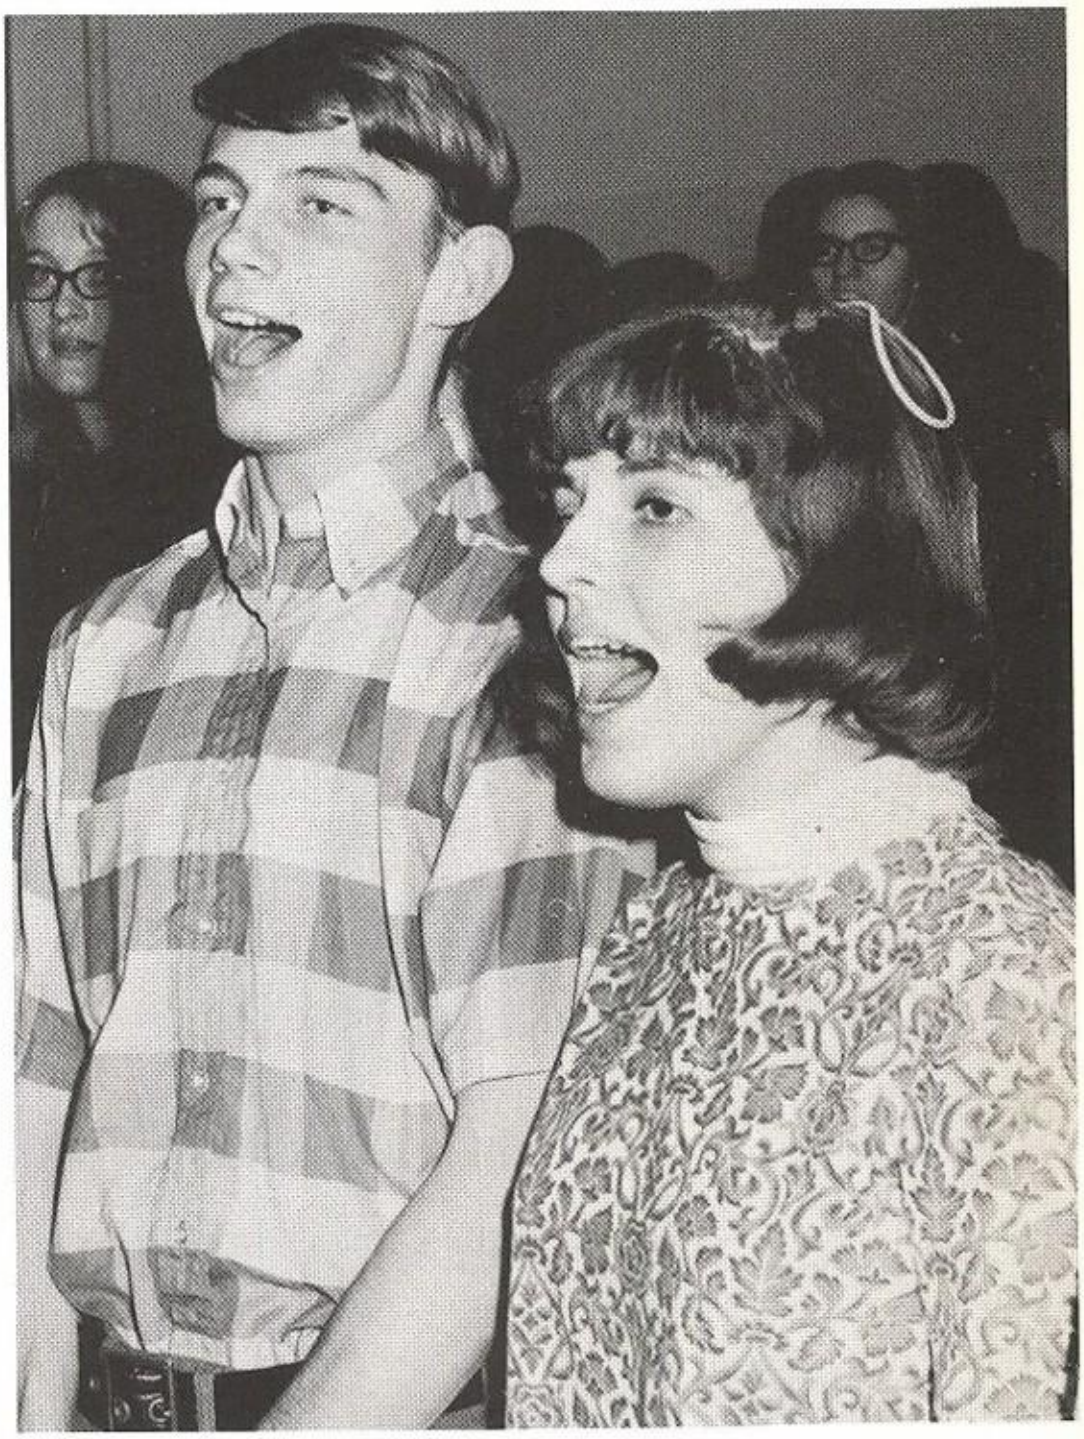


. . . Spirit

Richard Snyder presents Mr. Meek with trophies from the Sherman and San Antonio tournaments.



"Up With People" entertained and inspired the student body with songs of patriotism and good will.



Gabby Rasor and Randy Nusbaum demonstrate Leopard spirit in pep assemblies.

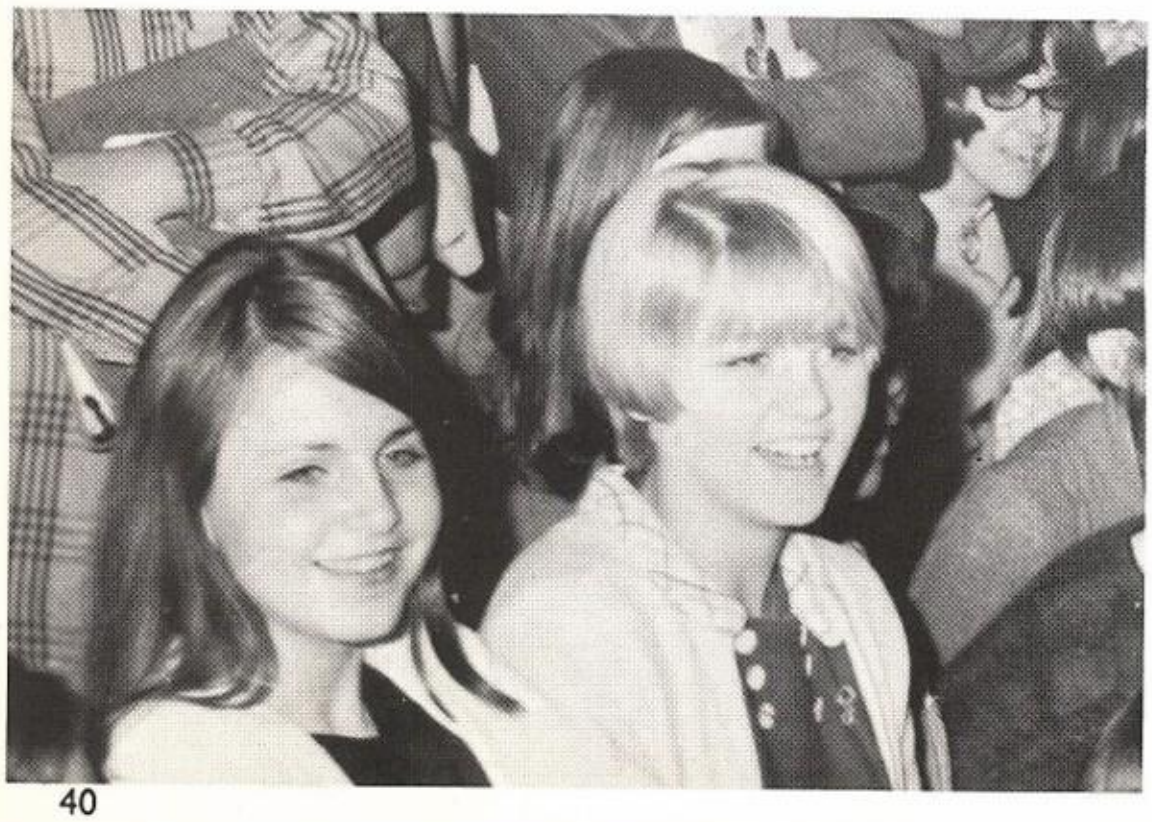
. . . Joy

We like to think that Student Life is mostly joy. It's attending the Faculty Basketball Game and missing sixth period, being nominated for Homecoming Queen, or hearing Jim Taylor's joyful song at lunch.

"It's worth a quarter any time to miss sixth period!"

There is even joy in defeat when "defeat" means receiving the honor of senior Homecoming Princess.

"Nobody knows we've skipped three days of classes to get a seat!"

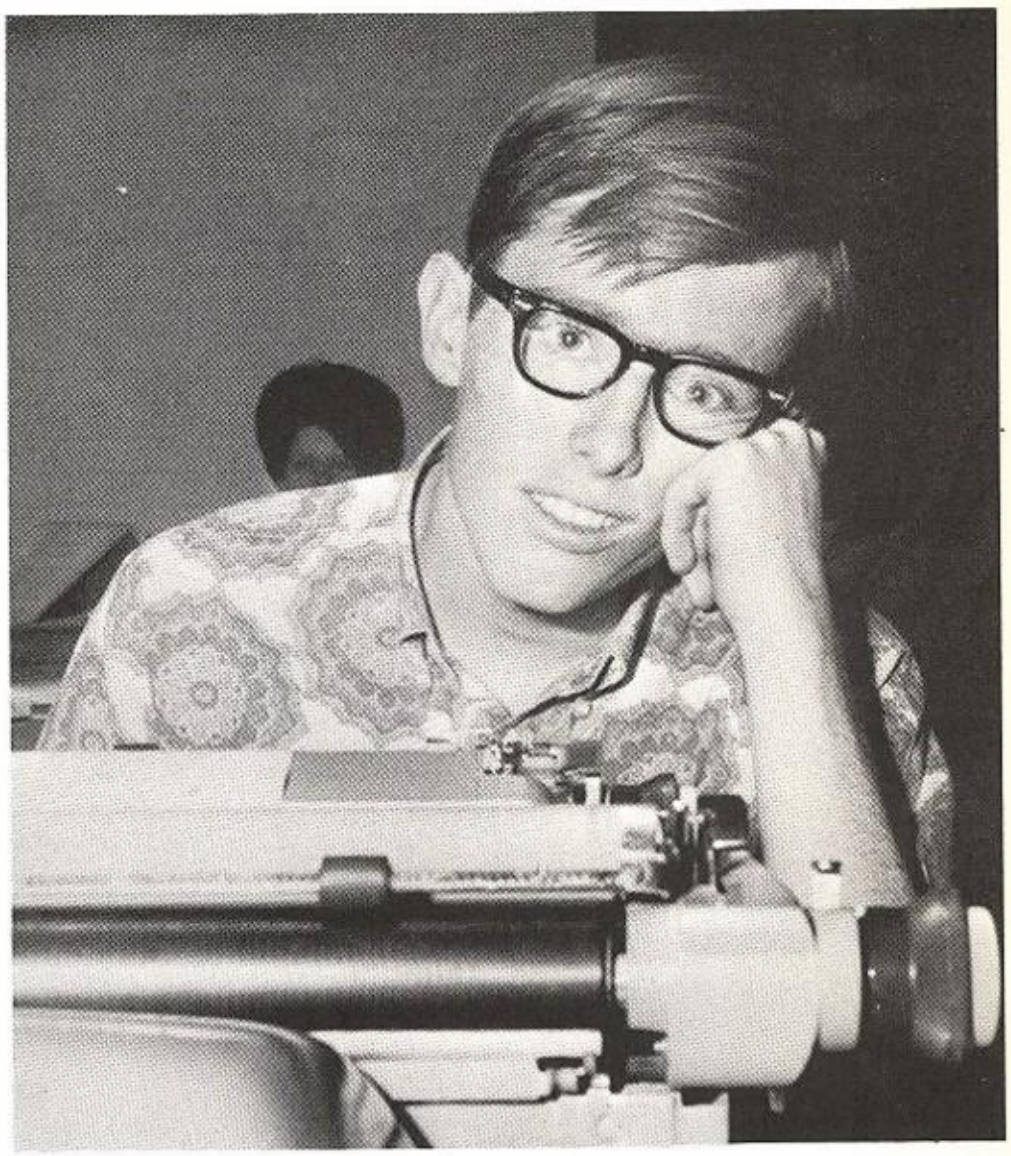


"Surely one of them has a tomato."

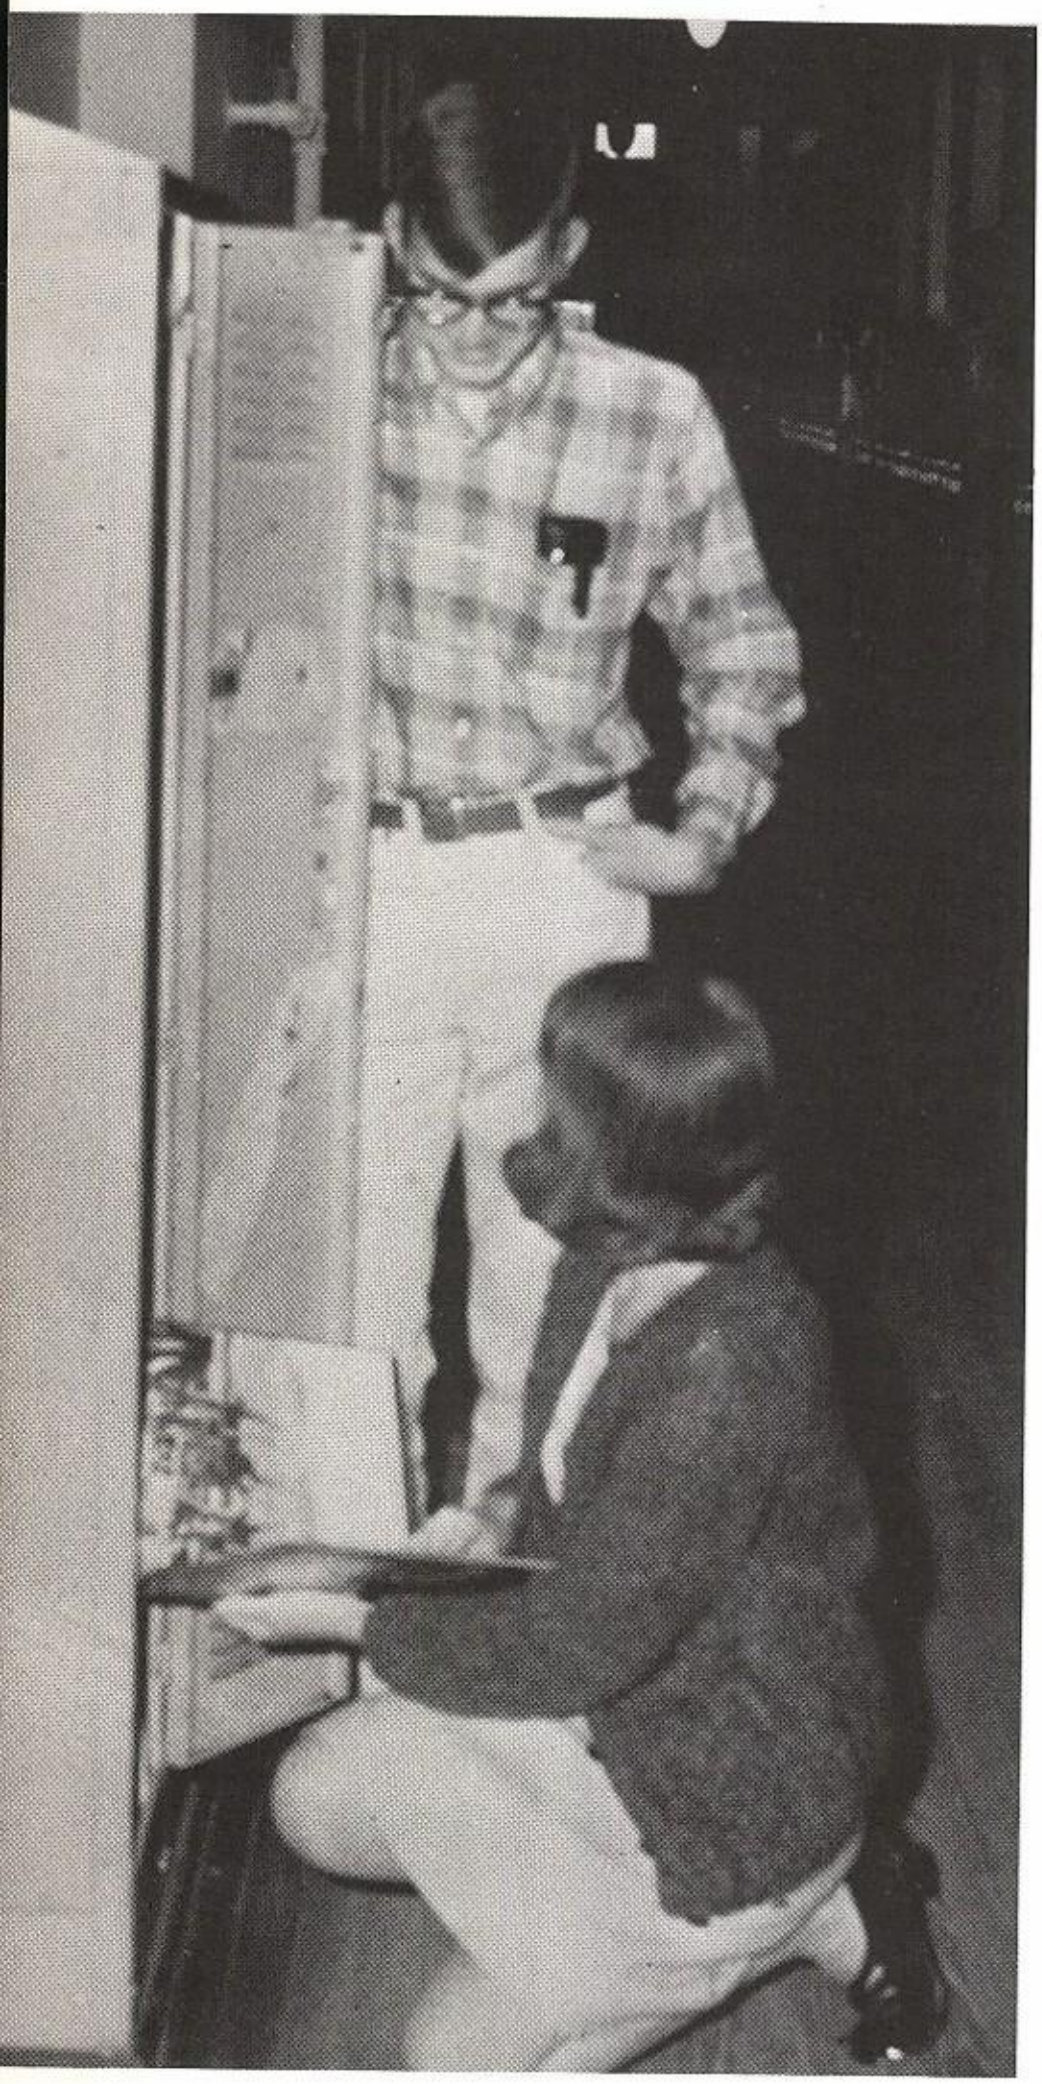
"How do you like that? A handshake instead of a kiss."

. . . Disappointment

Everything has its sad side, and Student Life is no exception. The 'F' in English, a forgotten assignment, the lost election, third period lunch . . . all add up to an occasional "Blue Monday."



"Would you believe 40 words and 41 errors?"



"Look, Jimmy. Oh, look. Look and see!"

. . . Friendship

This is the most valuable part of student life. It's walking that special girl to class, letting someone borrow your only pencil, giving away the answers to a test you failed yourself, and making the friends you will keep for a lifetime . . . These will be lasting impressions of friendship when high school days are far behind.

". . . behind 7-Eleven at 4 o'clock."

"I said he carries my books on Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays."

"Well, she asked me if she could have a lift."

Head of the Adamson Scholarship Foundation is inducted into the Adamson Hall of Fame.

Leopardettes are honored by the PTA as Leader Carolyn Sosebee, presents sponsor, Miss Betty Sewell, with mum.

Basektball Queen Nominees are presented at the Faculty Basketball Game.

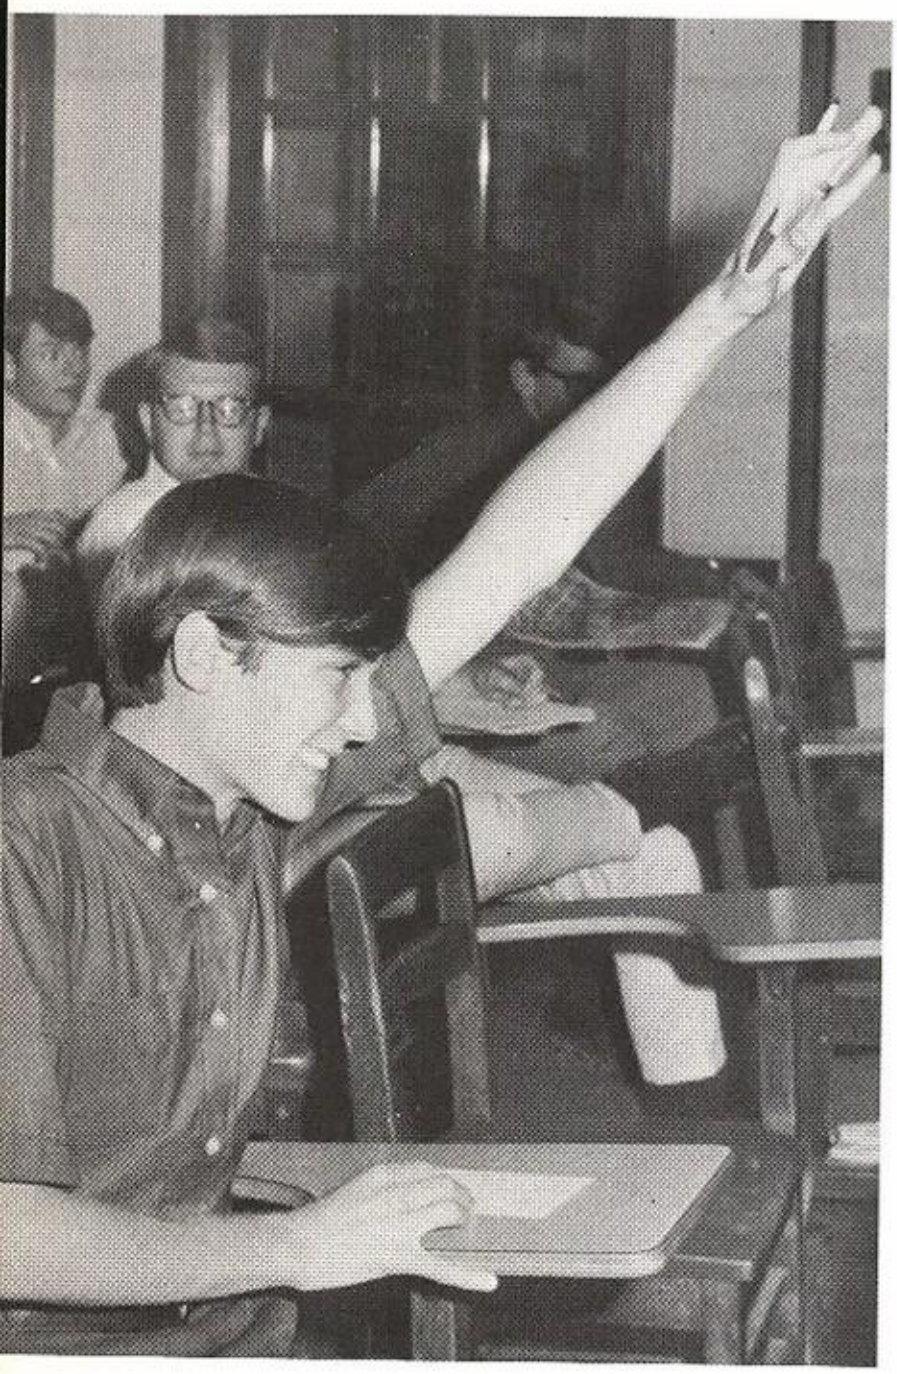
The nominees for Homecoming Princess are presented.

. . . Recognition

This is a special part of Student Life at Adamson. Receiving the approval of teachers and the high regard of fellow students by being named Most Likely to Succeed, being crowned Valentine Queen, winning a basketball tournament, or making straight A's—it all adds up to school days we will always remember.

Linda Ludden is recognized as a Basketball Queen nominee.

"Little Sisters" present the leaders with mums.



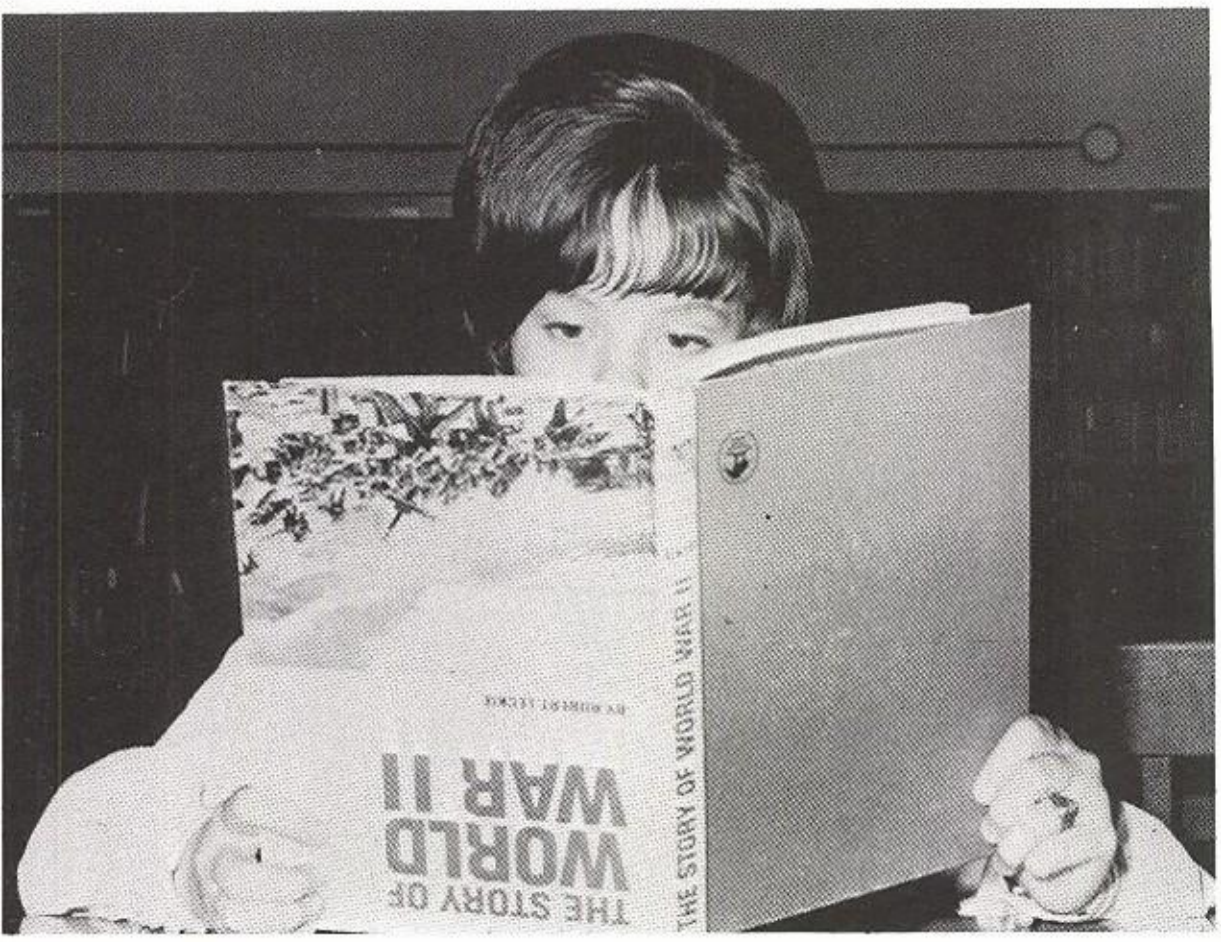
"Yes, Eddie, if you just have to!"

"Little man, you've had a big day . . ."

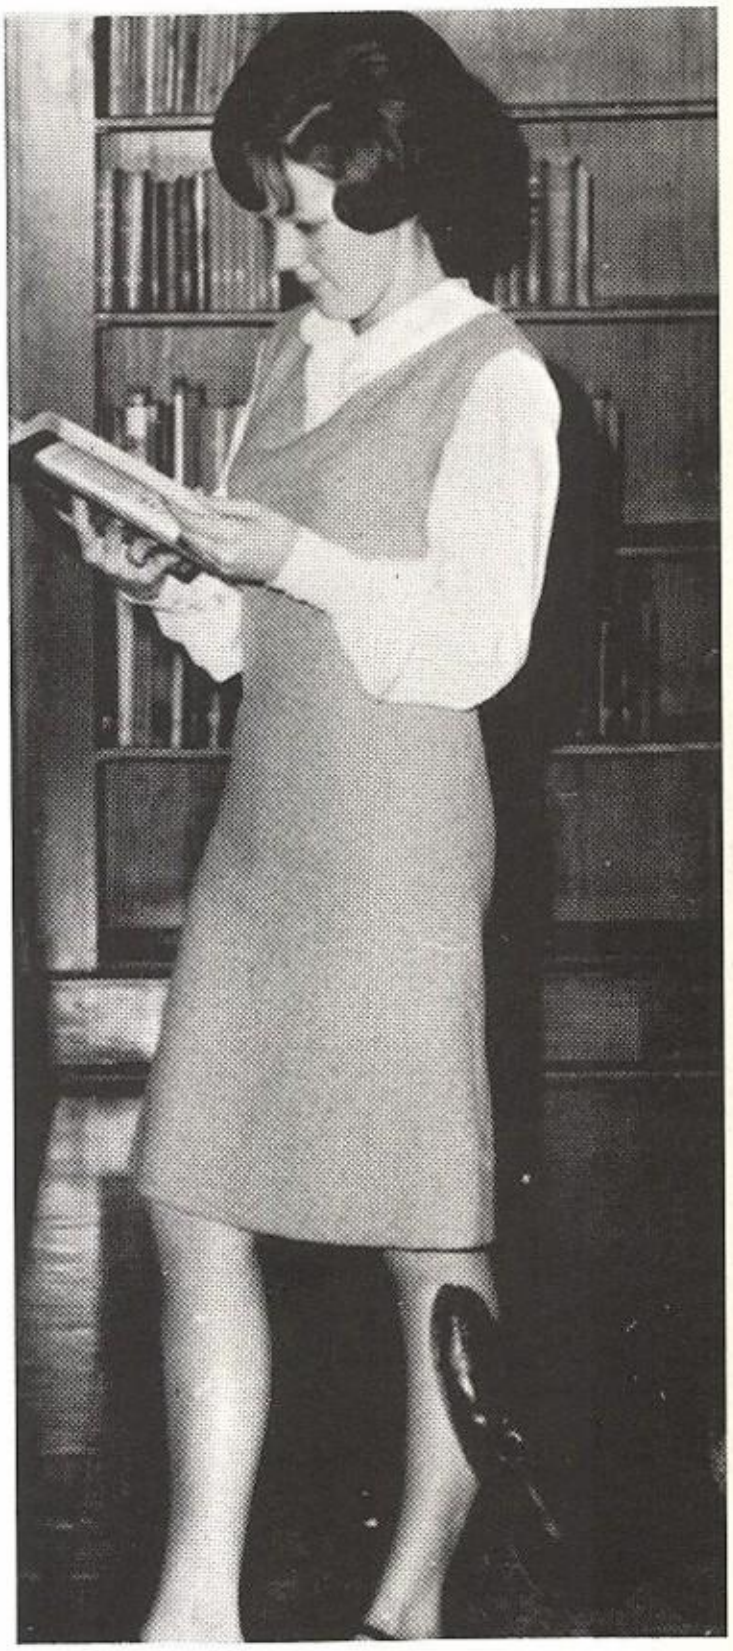
. . . a Desire To Learn

Although the desire of some exceeds the desire of others to learn, the drive for better grades also plays a large part in student life.

A moment of silence, brought to you by the honor study hall.



Students constantly strive for better grades.



Seniors frequent the library for term themes.

"Friendly student-teacher relations make learning a joy."

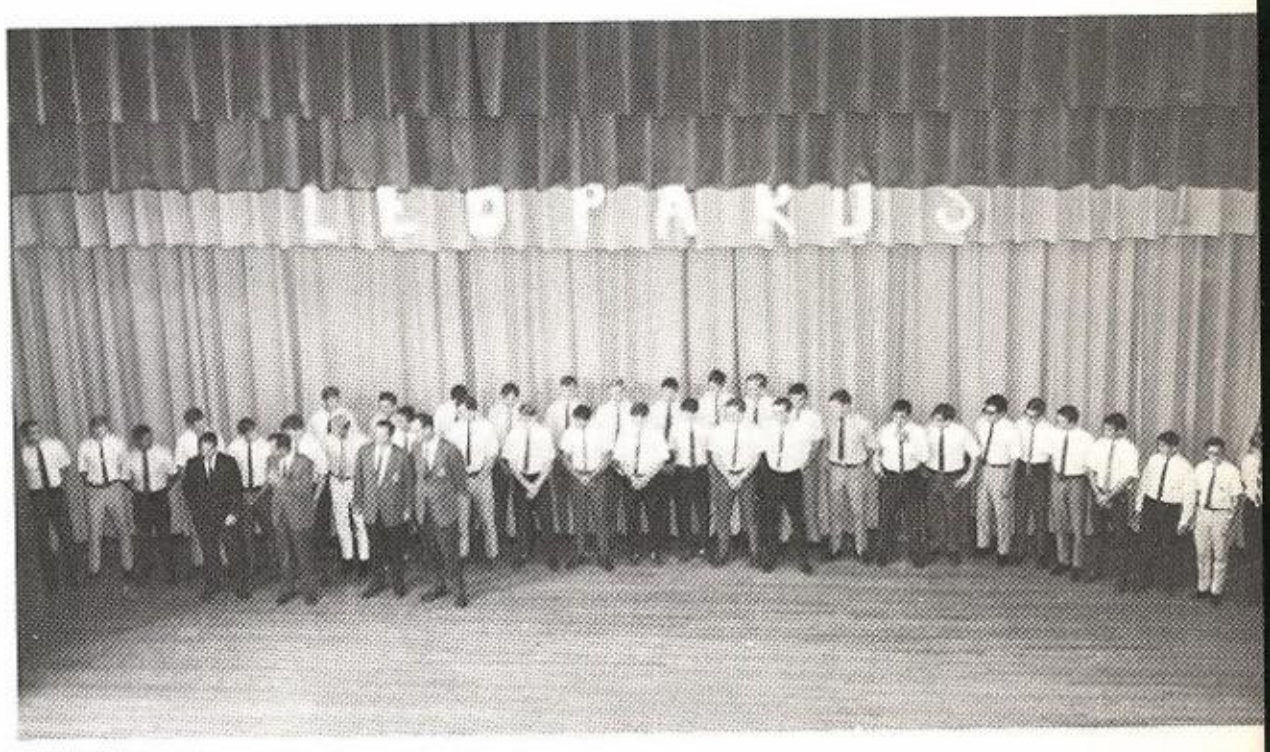
. . . Loyalty and Dedication

Loyalty and dedication are evident as Leopardmen prove themselves to their school and their fellow students, as young people dedicate their time and effort to the cause of promoting democratic ideals, and as students join in encouraging youth participation in the community "Sing Out!" ROTC drill team members spend hours of practice on drills for patriotic assemblies such as Memorial Day in preparation for military service to their country. In these and many other ways, students prepare to become capable, responsible adults and good citizens.

Karen Owen serves Adamson as school organist.

ROTC Drill Team performs on the patriotic assembly, December 7.

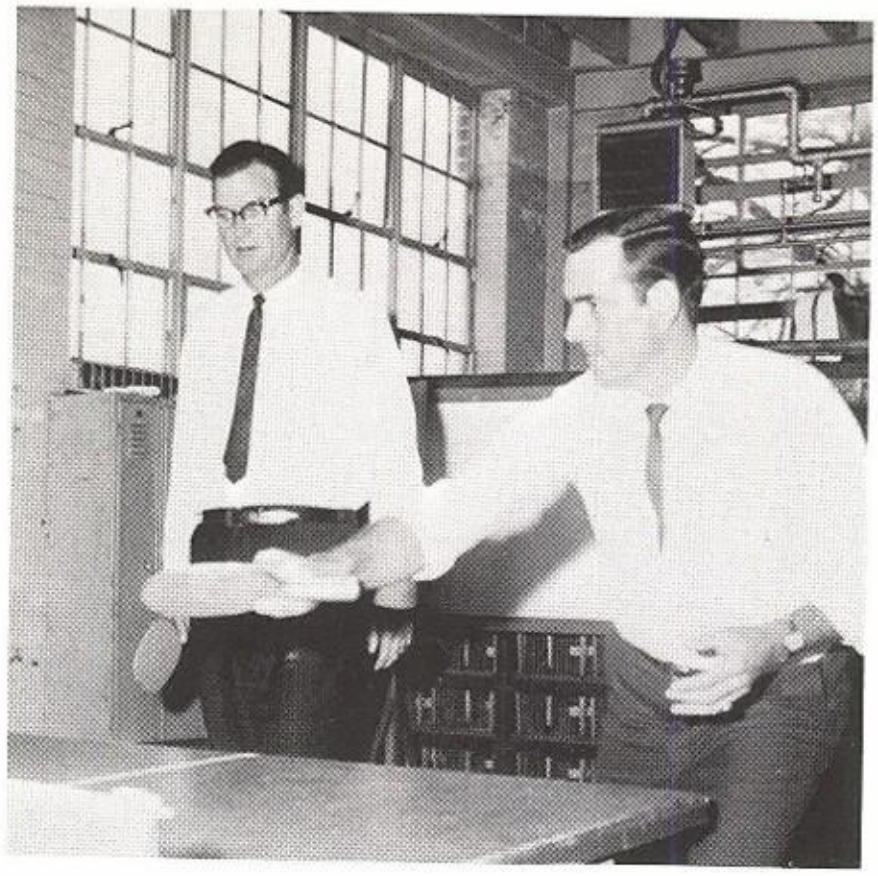
Students were stirred to energetic participation in the patriotic singing of "Up With People!"



The first pep assembly of the season introduces the fighting Leopards of 67-68.

Directed by Mr. Joe Teague, the chorus presents musical entertainment at open house.

"Actually I'm bored to tears, but I've got to keep up appearances."



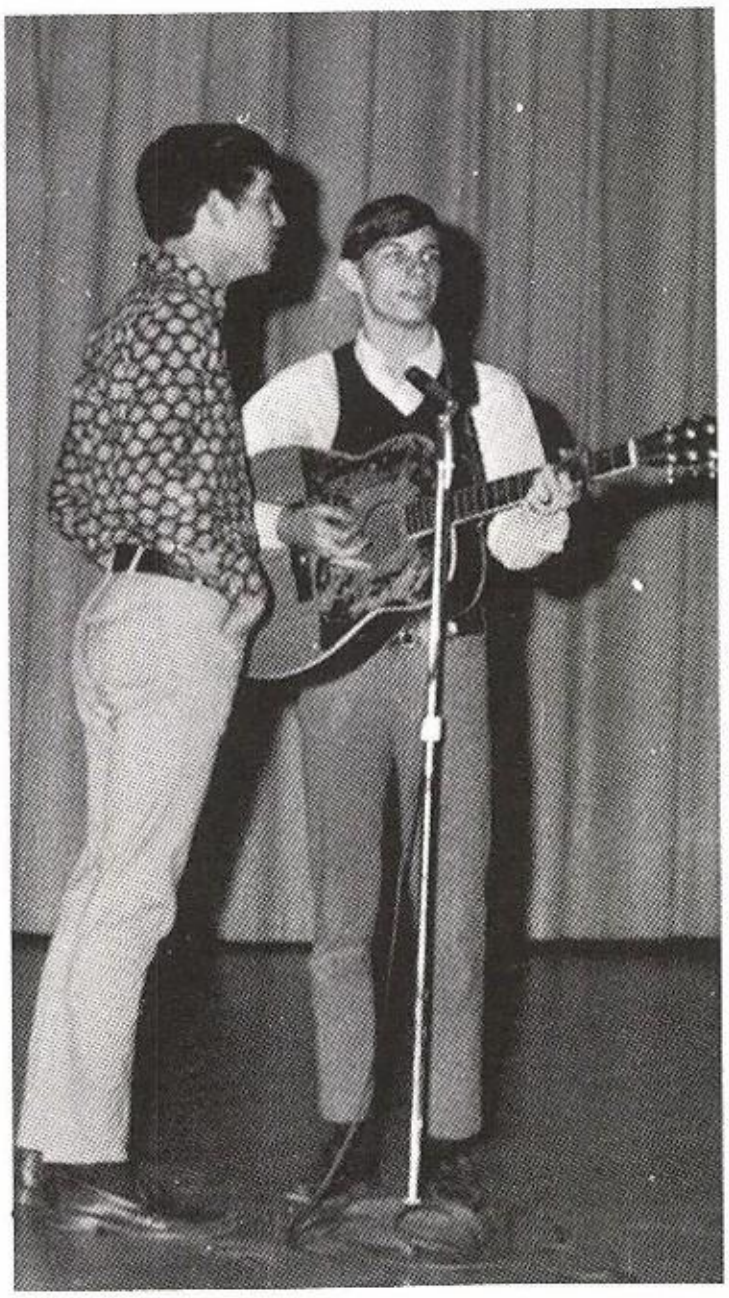
Sock it to 'em, Mr. Stevenson!

"... Please buy our corn flakes, they're made from corn!"

Girl Scouts together ... yeah, yeah, yeah.

. . . Talent

Even a dedicated desire to learn is interrupted for entertainment, usually in the form of student talent.

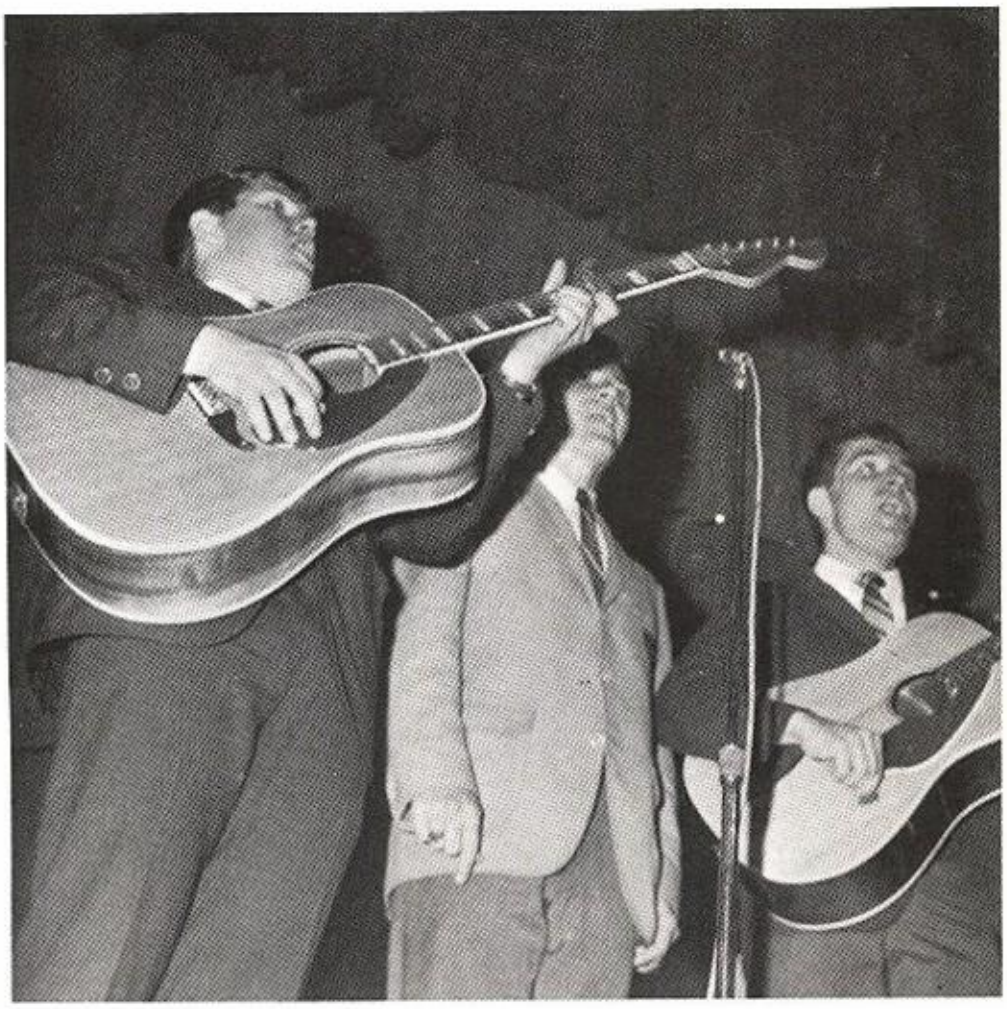


Randy Nusbaum and Larry Sanford perform on the annual pay assembly.

To a very good friend
Good luck next year
at El Centro.
Lasso Valley

"Up With People" introduced such songs as "Freedom Isn't Free."

". . . Bugaloo Down Broadway . . ."



. . . and Then There Are Some Expressions That Can't Be Classified

Excedrin headache No. 6103.

"Mr. Johnston, I can't believe you said that!"

"Down the hall, Richard, second door to your left!"

"The cover is what color, did you say???"

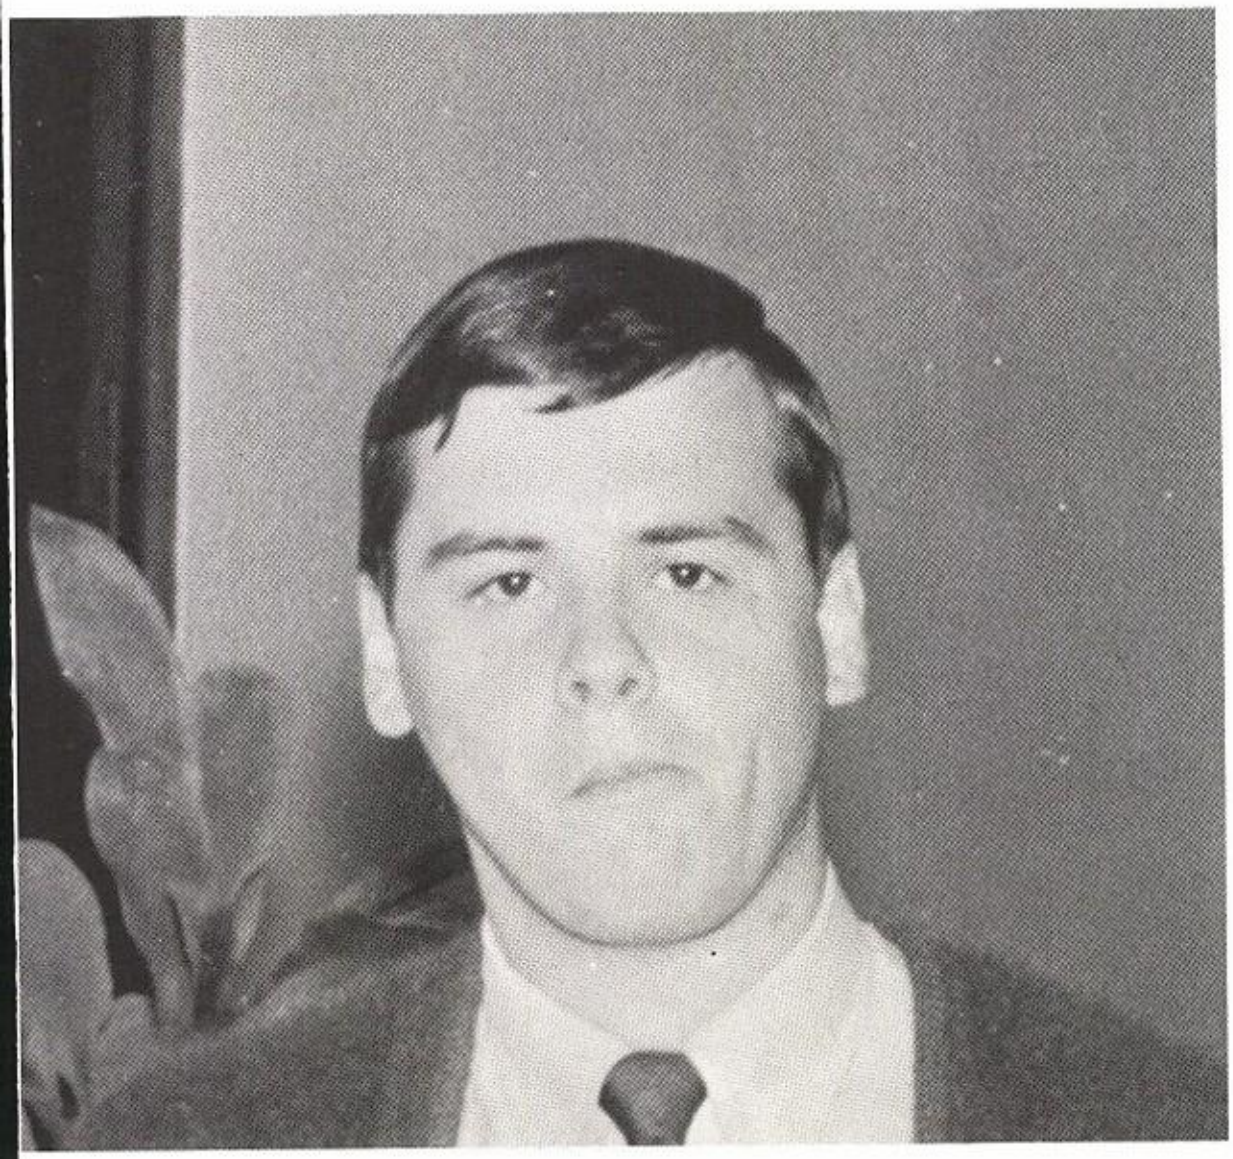
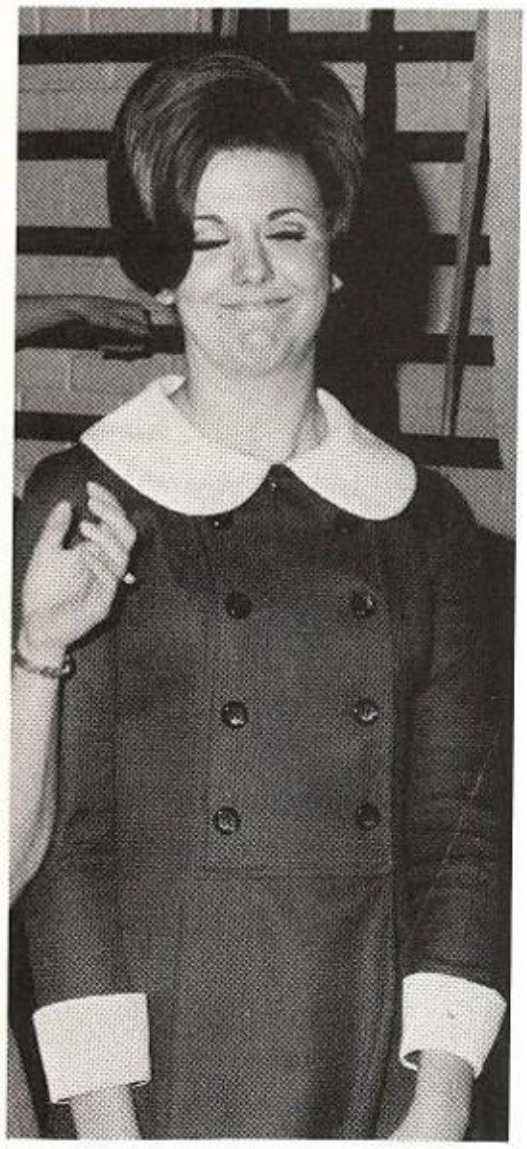
Number 23 finds out that not everyone uses Dial.

"My name is Carolyn Sosebee and I lost ten pounds in two weeks!"

"You can play the correct way. It's the easy Color Way!"



"Robert, are you sure that you aren't chewing gum?"



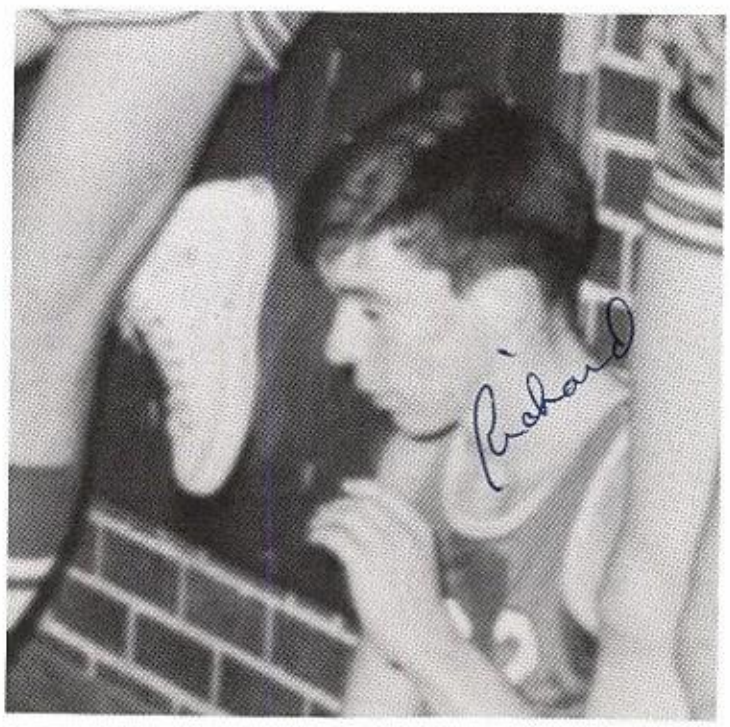
"Pond's 7-day beauty plan . . . it worked for me!"

"Kiss me, you fool!"

"What did you say was unzipped?"

. . . Still More That Can't Be Classified.

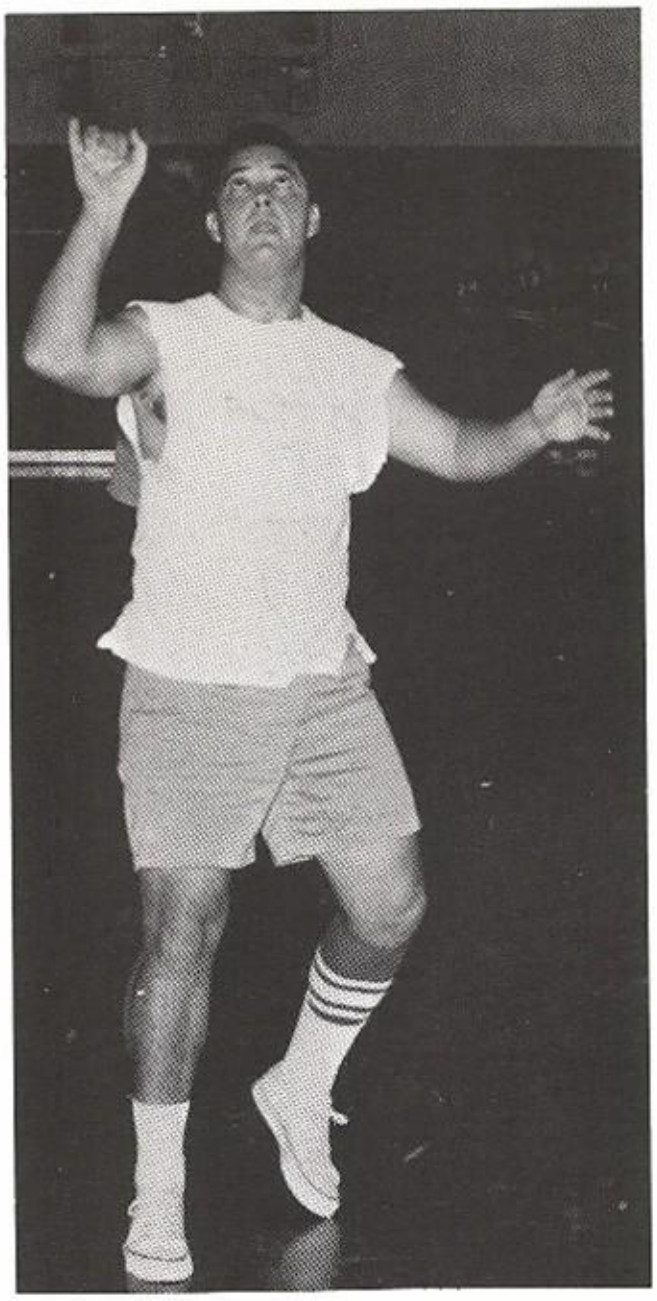
"No-Doz . . . unconditionally guaranteed."



"Shoo, fly, don't bother me!"

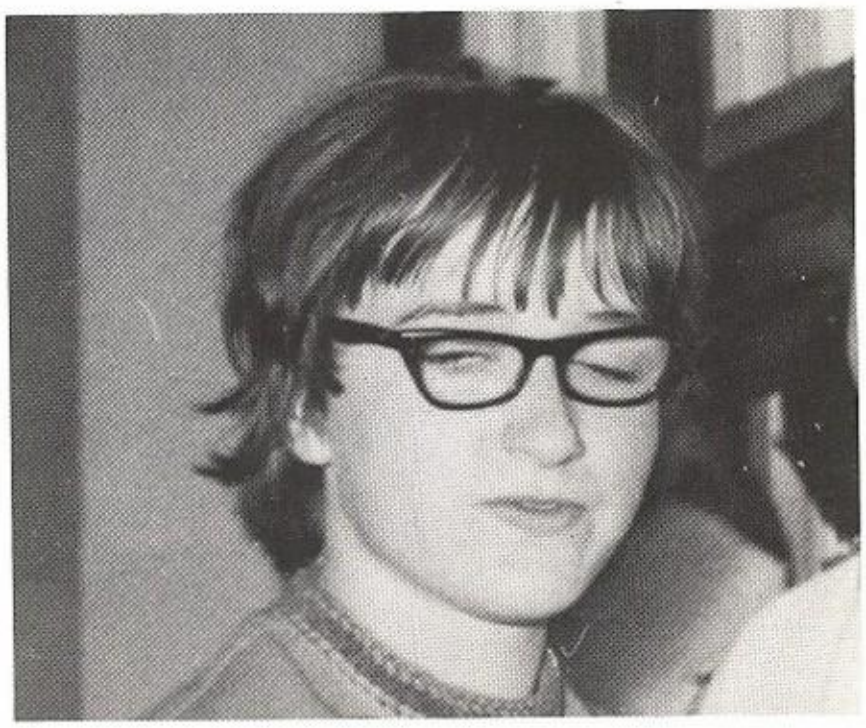
"There's just nothing I can do to ruin my image ... they love me."

"What does she have that I don't have?"



"The sky is falling ... the sky is falling!"

"Ultra-Brite did it!"



"Do you really think he'll notice me?"

La Betha Byers Crowned Homecoming Queen

Judy Furgeson, Joyce Rogers, and Lucy Long were senior princesses.

Representing the junior class were Mary Jane Miller, Barbara Reese, and Karen Roach.

Marianne McConathy, Linda Hodges and Debbie Bates were nominated sophomore princesses.

Tanya Cruse, Sarah Polanco, and Cheryl Huckaby were selected freshman princesses.

Oak Business Staff Manages Money, Records

Supervised by Mr. George Brownlee, the members handle all the money and finances concerned with the yearbook. They also handle distribution in the spring. One Oak representative is chosen from each homeroom to help with the records of individual sales.

David Kay

Paula Cummings, John Thoma, and Fran Hearn file the sales.

1968 Oak Representatives

Betty Bronar, Editor-in-Chief, works hard on her column, "Bronar's Byline," in order to meet the deadline.

Staff Produces Monthly Acorn

Under the direction of Mr. Bob Johnston, the journalism class writes the stories for the newspaper. The staff proofreads and makes up the layout pages to produce the final edition of the Acorn, Adamson's newspaper.

News Editor, Fredna Murray, proofreads copy before it is sent to the printer.

Besides writing stories for the paper Yvonne Gibbons, Feature Editor, helps write headlines for the stories.

Kathy Scheiern, Business Manager, takes care of all of the finances of the paper.

The reporters for the paper are taken from the students taking journalism.

The officers are: Robert King, Treasurer; Joe Crews, President; Marshall Cothran, Vice-president; Mary Skaggs, Parliamentarian; and Linda Ludden, Secretary.

Student Council Strives to Improve School

This year's student council, one of the largest ever, is sponsored by Mr. David Forgey. Many worthwhile projects are accomplished through this leading school organization to improve Adamson and its facilities for present and future generations. Two representatives and two alternates are chosen to represent each homeroom.

1968 Leopard Basketball Squad

This year's team, as in the past, was one of the highest ranked teams in Dallas. The team is instructed by Coach Jake Carter, one of the main reasons for the success of Adamson's Basketball Squad. The basketball squad possesses every quality needed to produce a winning team; sportsmanship, leadership, unity, desire, and spirit.

1968 Golf Team

Golf is an individual sport that requires skill and agility. Adamson's golf team has greatly excelled in the past. This year's team is no exception. Early in the season several members shot extremely low scores to be ranked among the city's highest. Each afternoon the golf team is on fairways and putting greens putting forth an effort to improve their skills.

Adamson's First Swimming Team

MR. TERRY GREENE, Coach

Adamson's new swim team is the first in the history of A.H.S. Despite being a newly formed team competing against older swim teams, the Leopard swimmers improved steadily through the season with hard work and determination. Next year's team should do well with a strong nucleus of returning upperclassmen and many new prospects.

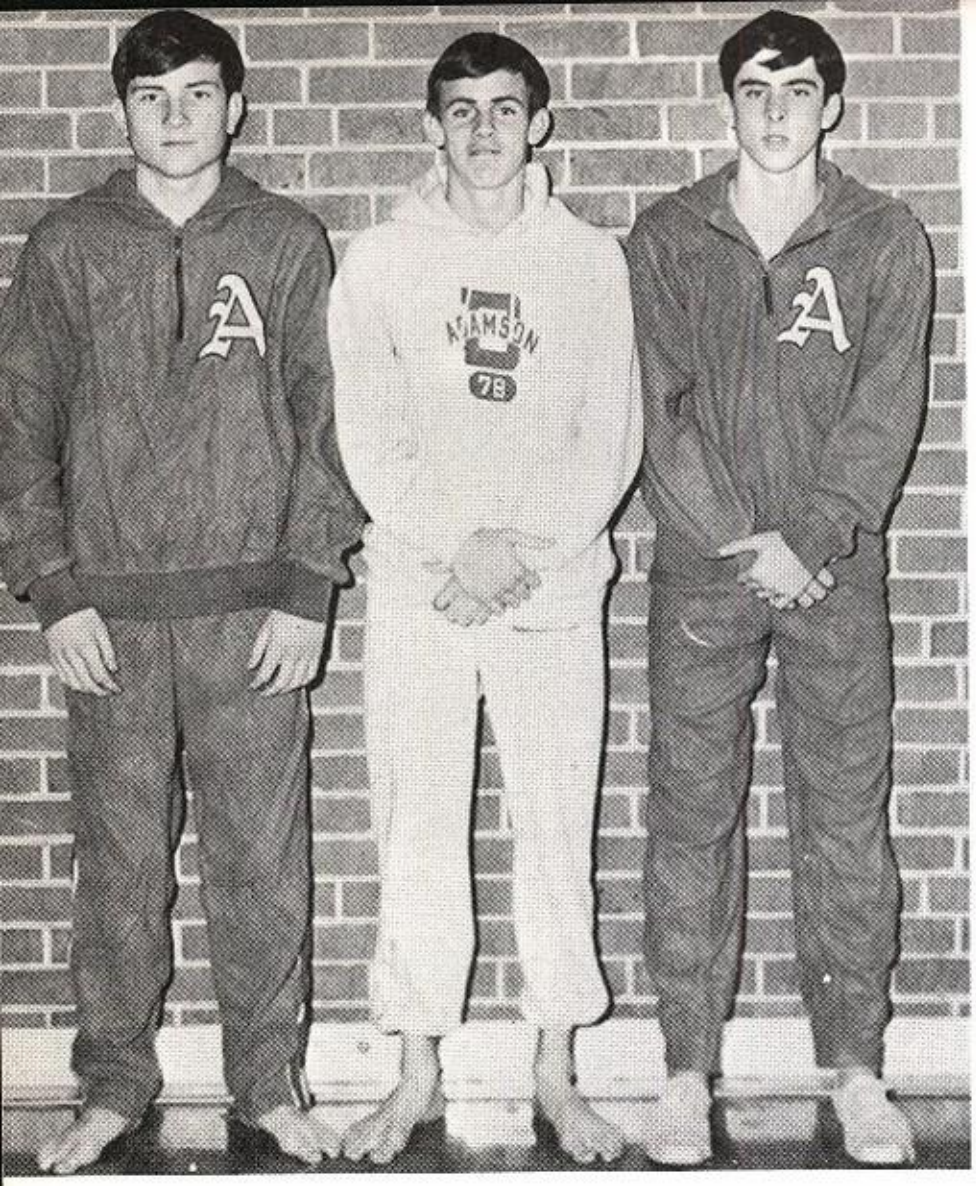
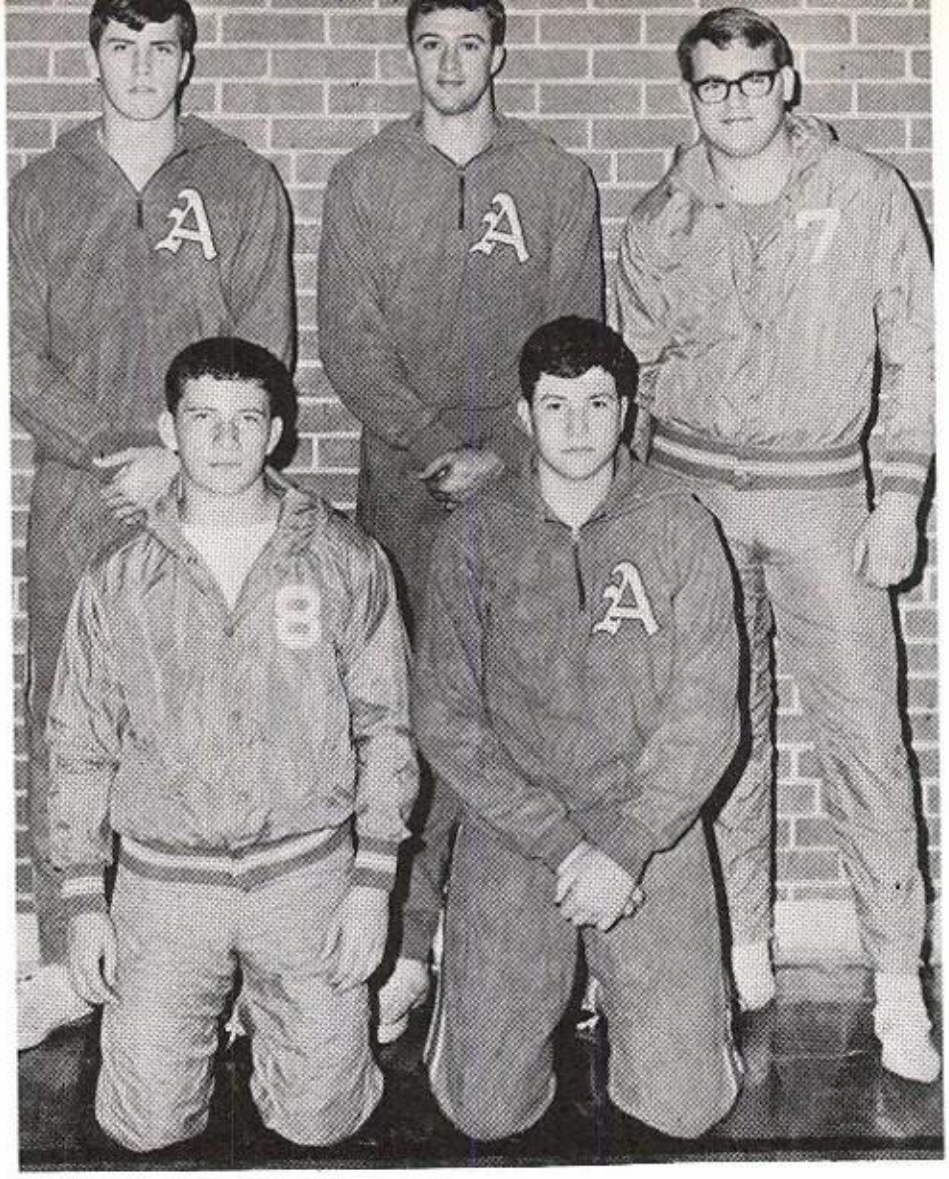
1968 Track and Field

Track and Field requires individual stamina and effort, unlike most sports where strain is put on the whole team. Track is different, because there is no one to help win but the individual. Each member trains during the season for the one opportunity to letter during the district meet.

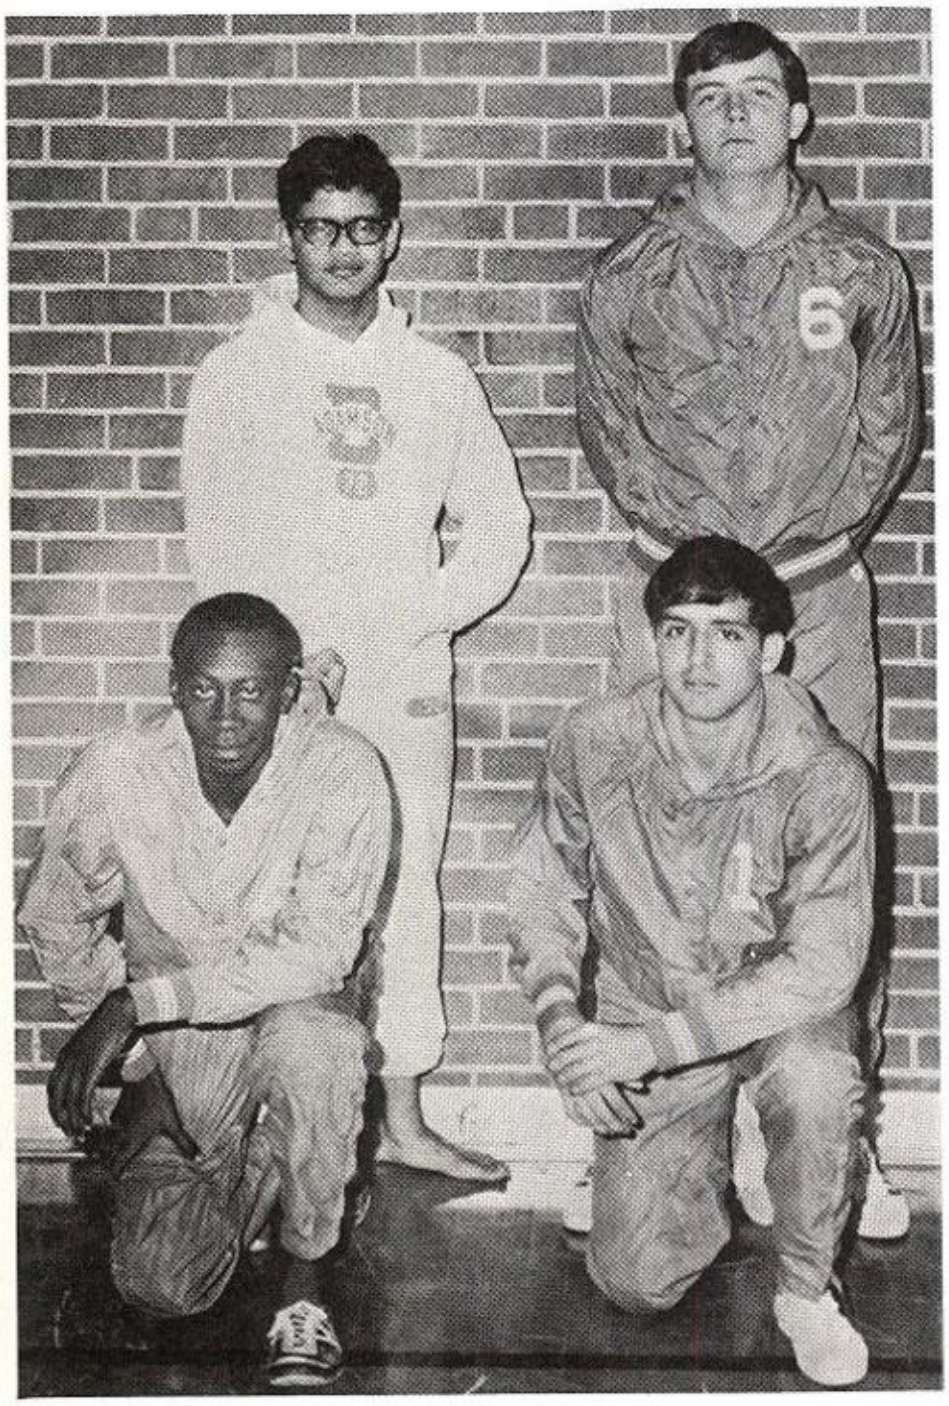
HURDLES, Billy Allen.



DISTANCE: John Carpenter, Lester Walker, and Harold Pierce.



DISCUS AND SHOT: Tom Pollard, Gary Wesson, John Chamberlain, Randy Canup and Dan Davis.



MID-DISTANCE: Frank Almendrez, Bill Cantrell, Roman Ross, and Mack Ortez.

1968 Leopard Baseball Team

A highlight to the spring sports seasons is baseball, with its color that is displayed throughout every game. As the season opened, the Leopards had revealed their talent by making an excellent start to the newly opened season. Due to the publication deadline zone information was not available.

PITCHERS AND CATCHERS: Kneeling: Bob Lopez, Robert Kissell, Bob Beltran, Sam Walters, and Ed Milkie. Row 2: Jack Frampton, Joe Crews, Zan Stephans, and Lynn Adams.

Staffers Express Relief

Relaxed expressions of the Oak staff reflect exhaustion and relief as they complete a long task. This year's staff worked diligently in an effort to recapture the many and varied faces of Adamson representing you, the student body. As you face the future, we hope that these pages will remind you of the happy and exciting experiences which were yours during 1968.

Eddie
Best of luck
in the future.

Eddie
Best of luck in your future and may this year be all you hope it to be.
Sincerely
